

Dear guests.
dear wine lovers.

"Those who enjoy wine taste secrets." (Salvador Dali)

Enjoy a glass or two of our diverse selection of wines and let yourself be spoiled by some of our kitchen's culinary secrets.

The focus of our wine list is on the wine country of Austria. This is not least due to our proximity to Austria, but also because the roots of the Hettegger family lie in Austria, more precisely in Grossarl (Salzburger Land).

At 48,000 hectares, this rather manageable wine country offers a variety of different types of wine. From fresh, spicy white wines to fine, elegant red wines and powerful, full-bodied white and red wines.

Despite all this, German Rieslings and Pinot Noirs, as well as internationally selected wines, should of course not be missing from any wine list and so you will also find a varied range of wines from all over the world.

We hope you enjoy your wine selection!

Your Hettegger family & the EDELWEISS team

Rosé wines

Rosé wines are made from blue grapes. During production, the grapes do not remain on the mash for days after pressing, as is the case with red wine, but only for a few hours. This leaches out colorants and tannins from the skins and seeds. This gives the rosé its typical color..

Riesling

elegant | fruity | full of finesse

Young Riesling wines show charming fruitiness and spiciness, which can develop into great complex wines as they mature. Aromas of peach, apricot and exotic fruits dominate. Depending on its origin, Riesling develops a mineral note reminiscent of slate and flint.

Green Veltliner

fresh | fruity | spicy

The Green Veltliner delivers all quality levels from light, acidic wines to highly mature Prädikat wines. In young wines, the apple scent and spiciness are in the foreground, which are "displaced" by exotic notes in high-quality, mature wines.

Sauvignon Blanc

fragrant | fresh | characteristic

The bouquet of this classic Styrian Sauvignon Blanc is fresh and fragrant. Paprika and citrus notes as well as a fine grassy note are characteristic. Riper grapes or warmer climatic conditions (e.g. Burgenland) develop more mature aromas.

Chardonnays are usually matured in barriques (= oak barrels 225l-275l) or in large wooden barrels. The best Chardonnays are produced in the soils and climate of northern Burgenland and Styria. In Styria, Chardonnay is also known as Morillon.

Red wines

Blue Zweigelt

fruity | full-bodied | spicy

In 1922, the namesake of this grape variety, Dr. Fritz Zweigelt, crossed the St. Laurent and Blaufränkisch grape varieties. This resulted in the most important red wine variety in Austria today: Zweigelt.

Blafränkisch

deep | characteristic | strong

The typical bouquet of this grape variety is characterized by deep wild berry or cherry fruit. Blafränkisch can produce great wines with a dense structure and distinctive tannins, which develop velvety facets when sufficiently ripe.

Cabernet Sauvignon / Franc

aromatic | strong | elegant

A good Cabernet Sauvignon gains increasingly fine roasted aromas as it matures, aromas of blackcurrants, often also reminiscent of licorice and paprika, and the use of small wooden barrels is almost obligatory, complementing the varietal type.
